

ABSTRACT

[0030] A filter element used for gas filtration, having a composite homogenous structure of inorganic fibers and reactant, the reactant reacting either physically or
5 chemically with contaminants in waste gas passed there through in order to remove the contaminants and thereby enabling the filtered gas to be more safely released into the atmosphere.